Technical College / Vocational Technical School
– Specialization: Computer Science

I attended the Ch. J. Tschuggmall school in Brixen and subsequently the Technical College for Computer Science in Bolzano. During this education, the focus was on hands-on training as an IT specialist, including the planning, design, implementation, operation, and maintenance of complex IT systems, as well as their precise adaptation to the specific requirements of clients and projects. The program covered both technical fundamentals and applied methods for analysis, problem-solving, and quality assurance in an IT environment.

FURTHER EDUCATION

Certifications & Specializations (Selected)

2006 – TODAY

I have continuously completed numerous professional development courses, trainings, and certifications, with a focus on IT, SEO/online marketing, and artificial intelligence (AI).

In the field of SEO, my courses include topics such as technical SEO, on-page/off-page optimization, keyword and content strategy, performance/core web vitals, structured data, analytics, and conversion optimization.

In addition, I have attended multiple AI-focused trainings, particularly in prompt engineering, AI-driven automation, data/content analysis, and the practical application of modern AI tools in a business environment.
